

LEARNERS WHO:
Recognise that everyone learns throughout life and every situation is a learning opportunity.
Show high aspirations and resilience when faced with a challenge.

TEAM PLAYERS WHO:
Recognise the importance of working with and alongside other people.
Show a passion for and commitment to the Falinge family.

COMMUNICATORS WHO:
Recognise the impact of all forms of communication.
Show the ability to engage the given audience through high standards of speaking, writing and reading and to be a discerning listener.

ROLE MODELS WHO:
Recognise that everyone needs role models, people they look up to and who provide the examples we can follow.
Show the embody the Falinge ethos both in school and out of school.

THINKERS WHO:
Recognise the power of communication showing the ability deep thinking.
Show the ability to be critical, evaluative and a creative problem solver.

RESEARCHERS WHO:
Recognise the significance of investigation, of looking into things and finding out more.
Show independence, flexibility and the ability to consider evidence in order to make informed choices.

EXPERTS WHO:
Recognise the role of the expert and appreciate the help they can provide.
Show expertise through a love of a subject, discipline or skill.

LEADERS WHO:
Recognise how, why and when to lead and know in which direction they are heading.
Show the ability to be supportive of others and help shape a positive culture in school.